Dear Alumni, Parents, and Friends:

The last year has been filled with enormous financial challenges for our College, the country, and the world. With the collapse of financial market values Wabash faced a new economic reality. We may not have received the attention of the national press the way Harvard, Princeton, and Yale did (which is probably a good thing). Yet our dependence on endowment income for over half of our operating budget is more similar to these Ivy League institutions than the issues faced by smaller tuition-driven institutions.

Our strong endowment has long been one of the distinctive strengths of Wabash College. The value of our much-reduced endowment, which stood at the end of June at around $250 million, remains the envy of many small liberal arts colleges. But our loss of revenue from the over $125 million decline in our endowment posed extraordinary challenges for all who care about Wabash.

In this atmosphere, we worried what would be the result of our Annual Fund. We knew that many of our most committed donors were facing financial challenges in their personal lives. Some of you have faced job losses or realignments. Others of you have escaped that, but have faced increasing familial obligations from the loss of jobs among sons and daughters or other relatives. For even the most fortunate among you there was clear nervousness about what the future might bring.

At just the moment when we most needed a strong Annual Fund performance, all were worried that you — our most loyal donors, the core of our efforts every year — would not be able to help, no matter how deep your love of the College.

How pleased, proud, and encouraged we were by your response. While some of you were forced to scale back your gifts, you did not stop giving to Wabash. Others of you stepped up to new levels, and we welcome many new names to the Honor Roll this year.

In the end, the Wabash Annual Fund reached over $3 million for the second year in a row, exceeding not our expectations, but the amount for which we had budgeted. This extraordinary generosity from all who gave to the Annual Fund had an enormous impact on what we were able to do at Wabash.

Let me mention just one very concrete example. With unprecedented financial pressures on state government here in Indiana and on the families of our students, because of your generosity we were able to respond rapidly when the state support of our students through the SSACI grants was cut by over half a million dollars just a month before Freshman Saturday. Had we not had an extraordinarily successful Annual Fund year, we might not have been able to respond to this sudden need with the ability to make whole the losses so many of our students suffered. The consequences for our entering class and returning students might have been drastic as some students might have been forced to abandon their dreams of a Wabash education.

I could not be more grateful to all of you whose generosity of spirit and commitment to the College have earned you a place in this Honor Roll of Donors and Volunteers for 2008-2009. I am pleased to extend to you my deep gratitude and the thanks of all of the students, faculty, and staff who live and learn at Wabash.

I thank you also for all that you do to represent Wabash in the larger world. As you reach out to prospective students at your local high schools, churches, Boy Scout troops, and community agencies, you carry Wabash with you. Indeed you are Wabash to the world.

You attend "W Nights" with representatives from our Admissions Office to help potential students and their families fully realize the value of a Wabash education. Hundreds of you give your time to work in your local communities during WABASH Day weekends. And you provide students internships and career networking opportunities that extend and enrich a Wabash education. In these and many other ways, whether friend, alumni, spouse, or parent, when you represent the College in your community, as you do every day, others will say, "There goes Wabash." You have earned this high compliment.

The Honor Roll of Donors and Volunteers recognizes the people who make the remarkable Wabash liberal arts experience possible for our young men. Without your help our students could not achieve that great accomplishment — a Wabash education. Indeed, whether through your support of internships, your conversations with students about their career or life choices, your example of service and leadership, or the glowing model of your philanthropy, you are the teachers our students need. You help them see how they might be gentlemen and citizens, leaders and loyal sons in the larger world beyond Wabash.

All of you are examples of our mission played out in the lives of thousands of loyal and dedicated alumni and friends. For that, I thank you from the bottom of my heart.

Sincerely,

Patrick E. White
President

Dear Alumni, Parents, and Friends of Wabash College:

Thank you for investing in Wabash College's students. For the second consecutive year Wabash College alumni, students, faculty, staff, parents, and friends contributed over $3,000,000 to the Annual Fund.

A $3.125 Annual Fund is a tremendous accomplishment under any circumstances. It is an especially significant achievement in these current economic times. When your alma mater needed you, you were there.

Thanks to your generosity, Wabash was able to help a large number of its students weather some unexpected financial aid difficulties. This year the Indiana legislature passed a budget that reduced the maximum amount of state funded need-based financial aid awarded to individual students. About 250 of our incoming and returning students learned in mid-July that they would have less financial aid than expected for the 2009-2010 academic year — a shortfall of more than $500,000.

Wabash responded quickly, revising Indiana students' financial aid packages and making up the difference with College funds. Students did not have to take on additional personal or family financial obligations.

We were able to help our young men because you helped us reach our Annual Fund goal. That is just one example of the many ways in which your gifts directly support our students and faculty.

Our work is not complete. Wabash needs your unrestricted gifts year in and year out. For the first time in four fiscal years, this year's Honor Roll of Donors is smaller than last year's. These uncertain times require that more of us step forward and make a gift to our alma mater.

As you read through this year's Honor Roll, identify a classmate, fraternity brother, friend, or neighbor whose name is missing and invite him to stand up and be counted with you in 2009-2010.

There is strength in numbers and we need as many Wabash men as possible to step forward and invest in their alma mater. I commend you for setting an example for your fellow alumni with your gift in 2008-2009.

On behalf of our students, faculty, and staff please accept our thanks and gratitude for your generous financial gifts and commitment of time for our College. You are all Some Little Giants!

Sincerely,

Joseph R. Emmick '92
Dean for Advancement

Dear Alumni, Friends, and Parents:

Financially speaking, 2008-2009 was one of the most difficult years in history. The stock market fell at levels that had not been seen since the Great Depression. This downturn in the economy had a significant impact on the Wabash College Endowment.

The value of the pooled endowment at June 30, 2008 was approximately $345 million. That was down from a high of $391 million in September 2007. The value of our endowment continued to drop through March 2009 when we reached a low point of $227 million. The market rebound of the second quarter had our endowment back up to $252 million by June 30, 2009. The Investment Committee of the Board of Trustees was very active in monitoring our investments during that period of time and believes that our investment strategy is a sound one for the long haul.

The financial highlights for the year ended June 30, 2009 are included on a page entitled Financial Statement located at the end of this letter. You will note from this statement that of the $25.74 million we receive in tuition and room and board revenues, we fund $12.93 million of scholarships and financial aid to offset these charges. This represents an average discount rate of approximately 55% of tuition.

It should also be noted that Investment Income of $20.74 million represents 45% of the total revenues. This represents a drop of $610,000 from the previous year. This reduction in Investment Income will be something that will be an annual occurrence for the next few years, and we will need to adjust our operating expenses to deal with this loss of revenue.

Total gifting revenues used for operations were in excess of $10.42 million. The Annual Fund contributed in excess of $3.1 million of gifting revenue, exceeding the previous year record of $3.098 million. In this economic environment, this is a phenomenal feat that demonstrates the loyal commitment of the alumni and friends of Wabash College.

Thank you once again for your continued support of the men of Wabash College.

Sincerely,

Larry Griffith
Treasurer & Chief Financial Officer

Dear Alumni and Friends:

One of the most enjoyable parts of my role as Volunteer Chairman of the 1832 Society is that I am afforded the opportunity to share the good news of our results from the 2009 fiscal year, and I am honored to thank you for your philanthropic leadership. During the past year, members of the 1832 Society helped the College's Annual Fund reach $3 million for the second year in a row and the second time in the College's history.

(Please see the 1832 donor lists at the end of this letter.)

Your 1832 Society support was critical in helping Wabash meet important financial demands in what became an increasingly difficult economic year. 1832 Society support enabled Wabash to fill the gap from cuts to Indiana state grants provided by the State Student Assistance Commission of Indiana (SSACI). This included repackaging financial aid awards for more than 240 Wabash students who had their state grants reduced or cut, replacing those grants with Wabash dollars.

Wabash was also able to enroll another outstanding freshman class. The 250 men who comprise the Class of 2013 come from 18 states and 10 countries. They are diverse in the talents and accomplishments they bring to the Wabash community and they are ready to have an impact on our College. Our leadership support of merit scholarships and need-based financial assistance helped many of these men make their way to campus. These young men in the Class of 2013 — along with their sophomore, junior, and senior peers — will learn side-by-side from some of the finest and most dedicated teachers in the country.

If ever there was a year to demonstrate leadership for Wabash College, the 2008-2009 fiscal year was the year. And these examples reinforce the importance of our philanthropic leadership.

Furthermore, we must not forget the financial realities facing Wabash's operating resources. As we have learned in the last several months, the decrease in the value of the College's endowment will have a significant impact on the College's operating budget over the next few years. Our leadership support as members of the 1832 Society will be more crucial in these next few years than at any other time in College's recent history.

Therefore, I hope you will again answer our call to renew and increase your philanthropic leadership support of Wabash students. I also hope you will call on your classmates and friends to join you. In doing so you will demonstrate your belief in the College's mission of educating Wabash men to think critically, act responsibly, lead effectively, and live humanely.

With gratitude,

Kevin G. Clifford '77
Chairman, 1832 Society

Dear Wabash Alumni and Friends:

In my role as National Chairman of the Wabash Annual Fund, I have the responsibility to ask for your philanthropic support of Wabash students several times during the fiscal year. I also have the privilege to report to you the results of our efforts for the 2009 fiscal year that ended June 30.

I am happy to report that more than 4,200 alumni, parents, faculty, staff, and friends — whose names are recognized in this 2008-2009 Honor Roll — kept Wabash on their mind and supported the mission of the College with a gift to the Annual Fund. That's a remarkable illustration of the loyalty and dedication of our alumni and friends!

Our collective giving helped the College's Annual Fund reach $3 million for the second year in a row and the second time in the College's history. This includes more than 1,500 gifts in the month of June in response to a challenge by 30 of Wabash's most loyal alumni to raise $1 million in 30 days in support of Wabash students.

Annual Fund support is a clear indication of your belief in Wabash's enduring mission of educating men to think critically, act responsibly, lead effectively, and live humanely.

I speak for all of the students, faculty, and staff who truly appreciate your participation in the life of the College when I thank you for your annual support.

We will again ask you to join together with us in growing the Wabash Annual Fund in the upcoming year. In what continues to be difficult economic times for so many, I do hope you will include Wabash in your philanthropic plans again in the 2009-2010 fiscal year. Our Wabash students are well worth your investment.

Sincerely,

G. Michael Dill '71
National Chairman
Wabash College Annual Fund

Dear Friends:

For over 175 years, alumni, family, and friends have believed in the power and role of Wabash College and have toiled to insure that our College remains strong in every way. This has never been more important to our college and its young men than right now.

Over 4,800 of you backed that commitment up with a gift to the College in 2008-2009. You made a statement with over $3,000,000 in annual gifts that you want your College to operate always from a position of strength. You backed that pledge up with action.

(Please see links to class giving information at the end of this letter.)

Thanks for all you do for Wabash,

Tom Runge '71

WABASH COLLEGE

President's Club

In 1987, the Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Wabash College established a special forum for those men and women who give a tangible expression of their deep and continuing commitment to the future of Wabash College through lifetime giving to the College of $100,000 or more. In addition to outright gifts, other avenues for funding a Presidents Club gift to the College include trusts, annuities, pooled income funds, life insurance, bequests, and qualified retirement plans.

Dear Wabash Friends:

Last year 61.8 million Americans (26.4 percent of the adult population) dedicated more than 6 billion hours to volunteer service. Using Independent Sector's estimated dollar value of a volunteer hour ($20.25), that service was worth an estimated $162 billion.

As I track the volunteer activities of the Wabash community, I notice equally impressive commitment. In 2008-09 Wabash had more than 2,500 alumni and friends contributing time and energy to the education of Wabash students. If we were to calculate the dollar value, and if we assigned two hours to each instance of volunteerism (those individuals volunteered on 4,295 occasions), that would be a gift of nearly $175,000 to the institution. We know that many alumni worked all day on W-Day, and we know that alumni who visit classrooms often spend more than two hours. You get the idea: Wabash volunteers spend valuable time with us. Wabash volunteers are priceless.

Each year I wonder what new examples I can give to underscore the importance of the volunteer work done here. We know that our volunteers stretch the capabilities of this small liberal arts college way beyond its size. If we didn't have the commitment of each of the volunteers listed here, Wabash certainly couldn't staff college fairs in all corners of the country, we couldn't take an English novels class to visit Charles Dickens' neighborhood in London during Thanksgiving break, and we couldn't write and test the feasibility of a new strategic plan. We couldn't do effective leadership training with our residence hall advisors, we couldn't run the scoreboard at Little Giant basketball games, and we couldn't lend a nervous senior a business suit for that crucial job interview. We couldn't run an outstanding Moot Court Program for students interested in the law, our Sphinx Club chapels might be unmemorable, and our welcome to parents of new freshmen would be less warm. In all of these ways – and so many more – alumni and friends, faculty and staff who spend time with our students and their families make a huge difference in their lives.

Thank you to each and every one.

Nancy J. Doemel
Senior Advancement Officer and Coordinator of Volunteer Services

Lilly Quality of Life Grant

These volunteers helped Wabash to achieve the goals of the Lilly Endowment Initiative to Recruit and Retain Intellectual Capital for Indiana Higher Education Institutions. Designed to recruit and retain the best faculty and students for Indiana colleges, this grant permits Wabash to explore Indiana's cultural assets, incorporate Indiana content into courses, place interns in Indiana cultural organizations, and study and present Indiana's culture to international students, new faculty, and other groups.

Student Life Volunteers

Student Life volunteers enriched the lives of Wabash students by providing a community fair to introduce them to life in this small town, coaching and judging Moot Court, advising fraternities, providing training for residential life advisors, speaking at Sphinx Club chapels, preaching or speaking at religious services and meetings, serving Midnight Munch breakfasts, or putting together 'Goodie Bags' before exams.
