December 2012

Dear Classmates,

At this most busy and hectic time of the year, Herm and I want to get one more quick letter to the Class of '77 before we ring out 2012.

The Holiday season is a time to give thanks and enjoy family and friends. We want to thank you for your great support of Wabash in the past year—we had a great 35th reunion and many, many of you were generous in your support of Wabash in many different ways. Thank you.

While there are many new buildings on campus since our time at Wabash, and with Melissa Butler's retirement at the end of the semester, a completely new faculty—I believe Tobey Herzog is the only active faculty member who would have possibly taught any of us; the excellence of Wabash continues.

Another important transition for the College will soon take place with the announcement of Wabash's 16th President. As you know from his regular updates about the presidential search, classmate Kevin Clifford is chairing the search committee. Pat White has accomplished much during his presidency. He and his wife, Chris, will be dearly missed, but I know Kevin and his committee are working hard to select a leader as committed and loyal to Wabash as Pat.

Thank you in advance for your continued support of Wabash.

Happy Holidays,

Greg Birk
