

Class of 1985
Class Agent Letter
October 2009

"In my next life, I hope I come back as a parrot, because I already know quite a few words."
- Jack Handey, The Lost Deep Thoughts

Dear Class of 1985:

Our 25-year reunion is approaching in the form of "The Big Bash," June 4-6, 2010.

We are accruing liaisons/point men from each housing unit to help communicate with classmates. This position has the following description (from the college's reunion handbook):

"Living unit representatives. These positions can be the most important on the committee. The more class members who attend, the more memories will be relived. In the past, classes whose attendance chairmen enlisted the help of attendance coordinators from each living unit enjoyed the best success. These individuals are responsible for calling (a phone call works best, save the emails for follow-up) each of their pledge brothers or fellow independent men. These calls should urge the classmates to update their personal contact information with the college, provide any appropriate updates to the class agents for class agent letters, and also urge them to attend the reunion. The Office of Alumni and Parent Relations will provide telephone and address contact lists to enable these chairmen to make those contacts."

As of 10/10/09 (to my knowledge):

Independent: John Williams, jrwrmdllc@yahoo.com, 314-707-6524 cell
Phi Psi: Greg Hockemeyer, GWH@whitelylaw.com

Kappa Sig: Bill_Brady@capgroup.com
Phi Delt: Professor Scott Himsel, himsels@wabash.edu
("Please give me an A in constitutional law, Professor Himsel, so I can get into med school!"
Yeah, I can still imagine saying that..)

Faculty: Maybe Professor Melissa Butler, now an honorary member of 1985? We'll see.

More to come, for sure.

Also: If the class of 1985 has strong feelings regarding using social networking to connect with Wabash and classmates, please let me or Scott know. Me, I think they are tools of Satan, but if the Dark Lord of the Underworld can make my life easier, who am I to complain?
