Class Agents

Late July, the "Classmate Updates" installment.

Gentlemen,

Greetings again from the Midwest. I hope this letter finds you in good spirits and good health. No business in this letter; no Annual Fund, no Admissions, no solicitations of any sort (except for some info from you all).

Classmate Updates

I got an update from M. Jawad Javed (jawadj@hotmail.com) that reads:

"Greetings from Fishers, IN. I am in the final year of my neonatology fellowship at Riley Hospital for Children in Indianapolis. My wife, Zohra, is busy in her pediatric practice in Anderson, IN. We have one daughter, Mahek who has recently turned three."

Kevin Eichorn has a new addition to his family. I called a few months ago to find out how he was doing and he replied, "We're doing great. Julie and I traveled to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia last August and spent a week getting to know our son. We returned with George Tsedeke Eichhorn on 8/4/2007. He is now 16 months old and thriving."

In a recent email to D. Andrew Reynolds, I found out that they have had another addition to their family: "Hey Chris, thanks for following up. This one came out the Thursday of Memorial Day. Healthy baby girl. That makes 1 Wally and 2 Dannies.....oh well, everyone is doing well here in Detroit and this one is actually sleeping unlike her siblings and we are glad to finally see a laid back kid in our house... I will have to say I remember the first one being so intense in the delivery room and this one, although not as intense, was just as sweet. Her name is Caroline Jo Reynolds."

Just this last week while on a walk, I was able to get in touch with Jon Graf. Nearly a year into married life, he reports that they are well.

Prior to calling Graf, I was able to give Jim Cherundolo a call as he was heading out for dinner. Once he figured out that I wasn't a Wabash senior asking for money and realized who I was, he agreed to shoot me an update. He later texted me and said that, "I'm a Vice President in JP Morgan's Chicago office and have been at the firm for over 10 years. I spend too much of my time focusing on how not to get blown up in the current financial market's meltdown."

I'll be giving several of you a call or an email over the coming months for general updates on what and how you are doing. If you have updates to submit, please feel free to do it online at the college's website, or send me an email directly at thecarpe@gmail.com. I'll fire out another letter in a month or so to give you the skinny on the schedule for the fall's events. You are, of course, always welcome to visit the college's website as well for that info. Be well, and keep in touch (with me and with each other)!
