

Wabash College Class of 2013 Update

Dear Class of 2013,

Congratulations on entering the final phase of your Wabash education. Just remember that you never stop being a Wabash man. In just a few short weeks, we will pass under the arch and graduate from our beloved college. I have faith that my Wabash brothers will go forth to spread the fame of her honored name.

It is hard to believe these fleeting years passed by so fast. Make sure to stay connected by joining the Class of 2013 Facebook group and following Wabash College Class of 2013 on Twitter. Also, do not forget to donate for the Senior Gift Campaign. The brothers of Phi Gamma Delta, Kappa Sigma, and Phi Kappa Psi have already reached 100% participation.

The senior brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha at the Senior Bench

Campus Updates

Congratulations to the men of Phi Delta Theta on their Pan-Hel victory.

Several members of the Class of 2013 continue to excel at Wabash sports. Chris Widup, Montana Timmons, and Robbie Hechinger are all enjoying great senior years on the Wabash baseball team.

Ian Leonard and Michael Demeter are in the process of finishing their senior year on the Wabash Tennis Team. A plethora of Wabash seniors anchor this year's track team. John Haley, Van Hunt, Derek Rowe, Will Drews, Chet Riddle, Jake Waterman, Joseph Granger, Matt Knox, Billy Rosson, and Evan Groninger helped the Little Giants triumph at Franklin College over the weekend.

Rudy Altermatt speaks at Senior Speak

Class Updates

Jacob Ahler will be attending the McKinney School of Law part-time while working for Governor Mike Pence's Office. He will marry Carolyn Weaver in January. He is a proud brother of Beta Theta Pi.

Ryan Cronin will be working at Eli Lilly and Co. as a Financial Analyst. He will also be marrying Sarah Russell (sister of Michael Russell '09) this June.

Edward Evans starts a Ph.D. program at UT Austin in the fall. He plans to conduct research on renewable energy resources to help alleviate the current energy crises and alleviate environmental concerns. He is a proud brother of Kappa Sigma.

The Wabash College production of JITNEY

Reminders

Please remember to join the Wabash College – Class of 2013 Facebook group. Follow us on Twitter at Wabash Class of 2013 - <https://twitter.com/Wabash2013>.

Also, please forward your new addresses to the Alumni office to continue receiving your Wabash Magazine through the mail.

The Annual Senior Art Show opens this Friday at 6:00pm. Patrick Alston, Joey Fogel, Sean Parchman, and Chase Tichenor will attend and present their work.

Anything you want mentioned in the next letter? Please contact J. J. or myself with information.

J. J. Peller
Jjpeller13@wabash.edu
(219)-309-5510

Trevor R. Poe
trpoe13@gmail.com
(502)-432-4593

Come to the Big Bash this summer. The event kicks off May 31. For more information, please contact the Alumni and Parent Relations Office.

Alumni and Parent Relations
P.O. Box 352
Class Agents
Crawfordsville, IN 47933
Web site: www.wabash.edu
Email us: alumni@wabash.edu
Phone: (765) 361-6369