

Admitted Student Weekend

Session Descriptions

So many resources and programs at Wabash....what will you choose to explore?

We are ONE Wabash

900 students. 32 states. 17 different countries. Come hear from current students how we all coexist on this small campus.

Across the nation college campuses are struggling to unify their student bodies that are polarized due to political ideologies, racial tensions, among other pressing issues. The men on Wabash's campus surely have different views and contrasting beliefs. They will tell you how they press towards unity when the path to division is far more traveled.

Career Services/Wabash X

With a Princeton Review ranking of "Top 5 Best Schools for Internships" and a career placement rate of 98.8% six months after graduation, learn from our Career Services team about Wabash's programs and support services to help get your son the professional experiences, internships, and skills to be successful.

WabashX includes high-impact, experiential learning programs at the forefront of business innovation, global health, civic leadership, and digital media. Come learn which co-curricular opportunity is best for your interests!

- Center for Innovation, Business & Entrepreneurship (CIBE) teaches entrepreneurial and business skills, and provides the tools to be innovative leaders.
- In Wabash Democracy & Public Discourse (WDPD), students learn to participate in and lead deliberation, discussion, debate, and advocacy. The initiative equips leaders to stimulate productive conversations in communities to solve problems.
- The Global Health Initiative (GHI) provides curricular and experiential opportunities to transform the way students think about health.
- Digital Arts and Human Values (DAHV) seeks to advance our understanding of how digital media and its congruent culture can reflect and shape our values constructively for the enrichment of society.

Student Organizations and Getting Involved

Wabash has over 70 student clubs —from academic-based organizations to service opportunities to outdoor activities. Hear about the many ways our students get involved, develop their leadership, volunteer in the community, and meet new friends that share similar passions.

Study Abroad/Research

Wabash students have opportunities to study abroad, participate in an international or domestic immersion experience, and earn fellowships to work or study overseas. These rewarding, life-changing opportunities wouldn't be possible without dedicated resources. Hear from our professional staff and faculty on how they help students make their international interests a reality.

From summer internships and independent study, to larger research groups, Wabash faculty value the opportunity to mentor students and help them pursue research opportunities to build upon what they are learning in the classroom. Join faculty and students from various departments to get a sampling of research opportunities at Wabash!

Real Talk with Wabash Students (Students only)

Join this candid talk with current students about how life is at Wabash— really!

Have questions about residence halls options or fraternity houses and rush? Come get all the information you need before the housing tours at 4:30 PM.

Q&A for Families (Families only)

Have questions as a family member of an incoming Wabash student? Join campus representatives for a helpful discussion of all things Wabash.

College is demanding but Wabash has many support services to help students. Learn about the Writing Center, Quantitative Skills Center, Supplemental Instruction, time management and study skills support, and disability services.

We will also discuss Health and Wellness and Residence Life.
