Spring 2023

Dear '59ers:

Wabash athletics have had a very busy Spring. One Saturday, there were eleven separate activities. We beat Wooster at the NCAC basketball championship and played in the NCAA Tournament.

Early this year, I went to Wabash to visit the Robert Wedgeworth Library located in the MXI. Mrs. Morgan graciously gave me a guided tour. While there are several thousand books, for me the center piece is a large new oil portrait of Bob. It is Bob as he is today! I must have studied the painting for five minutes, as in my mind's eye, I always saw Bob as bringing the ball up court, along with Sherm Franz and John Hollett for another Wabash basket. Duane Axel, Mike Costello and Jack Yerkes played key roles on the team, which went to the NCAA Tournament our junior and senior years.

Bob was the featured speaker at the MXI Fiftieth Anniversary Dinner. He was an Active Wabash Trustee for many years. Some Little Giant! Visit the MXI on your next trip to Wabash College and see Bob's portrait. <https://www.wabash.edu/news/story/11913>

During the College's recent Day of Giving in April, Wabash raised more than $1.679 million from 3,573 alumni, parents, faculty, staff, students, and friends. Best yet, together we raised more than $2,107 per Wabash student! Thanks to Roger's class challenge, 11 classmates made a gift on the Day.

June 30 marks the end of the groundbreaking Giant Steps Campaign, which to date has raised almost $244 million. You still have a little more than a month to take your giant step at www.wabash.edu/give.

Bob, Roger Billings and I have served as your class agents for about twenty-five years. Wabash is strong today but continues to need your support.
