Wabash College

Class of 1964

March 2023 Class letter

Gentlemen,

In late March Connie and I drove to Indianapolis to conduct some personal business. It was the first time we had traveled very far (150 miles one way) in four years. After our business was completed we were joined for lunch in Noblesville by our good friend J. B. Bachman, Wabash class of '61. J. B. was honored last year by having the Wabash Class Agents Society named for him. It was good of J. B. to bring us up to date about fellow alums, and local activates we hadn't heard about.

We left Indy and headed to C'ville to visit our dear friends Sam Hildebrand, class of '61, and his wife Susie. We hadn't seen them in four years as well, and normally visit them several times a year. They reside in a Victorian home on W. Main St., which they have personally restored to its former beauty.

The point of all this is that as the years go by since our years at Wabash College we have formed active, lifelong friendships with many fellow Wabash alumni. Even with Covid – 19 we have remained in contact with friends via phone calls, e-mail, cards, letters, etc. It is gratifying that these friendships have lasted over sixty years, and begun with our experiences at Dear Old Wabash.

I give thanks to Skip for joining me as co-class agent. We understand that our letter helps keep you in personal contact with Wabash, especially for those who live far away and don't make it to campus very often.

We hope that between us and the periodic mailings sent by the College you can feel the sense of appreciation even more of what it means to be Wabash men. We especially thank the editors of the Wabash magazine, which has become an excellent publication.

Skip and I would appreciate any contributions to the class letter, especially regarding any plans to attend the "Big Bash" or Homecoming, which attract many alumni and friends of the College.

Yours in 'Bash,

Ron

P.S.

Just a heads up – the annual “Wabash Day of Giving” is coming up in April. It’s not only the amount capital we raise each year at this time (last year we raised $1,744.00 per student) but the percentage of givers has increased as well, which is an important figure. By supporting the mission of Wabash College it continues to offer quality education opportunities to young men. This year, a group of leaders is putting up $510,000 when we reach 5,010 gifts. If you’d like to send a check or make a stock of IRA/QCD gift in advance, you can mail it to Wabash College 301 W. Wabash Ave. Crawfordsville, IN 47933 and write Day of Giving in the memo or call 877-743-4545.
