Gentlemen of ‘62

Sitting here under the Ramada, enjoying the sunny weather, blue skies and warmth of the southwest, it does lead me to recall that only a few days ago many of us were in Crawfordsville. There to rejoice in our Big Bash 50th class reunion – fifty years removed from graduation. It was a great time on campus, time to renew friendships, review the buildings from our days along with more recent additions and to pause for remembrance of those who are no longer with us.

A class agent relies upon his peers in the helping to maintain communication between classmates, also between the college and its graduates. We all owe a great debt to Brent, Lee and Terry who have lead us these past fifty years.

My commitment to you is a continuation of that flow of information. To that end, I have created two new portals of information. Our class now has both a Facebook page, and a blog space. Links to both are shown below. While there will still be the occasional hard copy of letters, these new areas will allow a quicker method of sharing information and both allow you to offer feedback concerning the topic at hand, or other issue you believe is relevant to our classmates.

For those of you who are getting this via a hard mailed copy, I shall continue to make such mailings. However if you do have an Email address, I would appreciate your sharing of that address. It is a step toward going “green” and saving college mailing expenses, which should help us all. I may regret that last sentence, for as a son of a US Postman, it was in a sense the mail that financed my Wabash education.
Give it a try. If you do not have a Facebook account, one can be easily created, requiring only an Email address. Visit the blog site and comment. Let me know your thoughts.
