5. Class of 1985 updates:

From Todd Roland, MD:

"Hey guys

I am sharing a professional update. Please feel free to include in whatever Wabash communication that is relevant. Hope you are both doing well.

--

I recently created my own business, www.healthinnovationassociates.com, to relaunch my health care consulting career. I am excited to focus on health technology solutions with other collaborative consultants, IT vendors, and progressive employers. I have more than 20 years of medical informatics experience, working as a chief medical information officer, founder of health information exchange, and most recently as senior VP & CIO for a health care system.

Health care spending continues to create incredible pressure on families and our economy. I look forward to developing cost-effective solutions that always put patient care at the center.

My LinkedIN profile is up to date.

From Michelle Ward, Wabash:

"Clark '85 promoted at Fed. Reserve Bank of Cleveland

Dr. Todd E. Clark '85 was promoted to senior vice president and research economist at the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, effective July 1. He will continue to oversee the macroeconomic policy section within the Bank's Research Department.

Todd joined the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland in 2010 as a vice president and research economist. Prior to joining the Cleveland Fed, Clark was a vice president and head of the macroeconomics group at the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City. He is currently a co-editor of the Journal of Business and Economic Statistics.

An economics and mathematics major, after Wabash, Todd earned an MA and a PhD in economics from the University of Michigan."

Ryan Lane '85 and Mark Brosmer '85 are collaborators in an artwalk exhibit this month at the Gloria Delson Contemporary Arts gallery in Los Angeles. Their work is in the Paintings/Mixed Media category. Ryan and Mark were Art majors at Wabash. Mark is an award-winning Los Angeles artist. Ryan is a painter who has expanded his art to fine furniture builder. See www.gdcagallery.com for information about the "Chroma" exhibit, from June 1-30.

6. News from related classes:

Steve Hoffman '85, Director of Alumni and Parent Relations, has 189 new alumni to track, but one should be easier than the others because he is Steve's son Corey!

Greg Zorich '85 and Mike Gilvary '85 each have a son joining the Class of 2021.

As Mike pointed out in a Class Agent Letter in 2010, for some members of the class, "future Wabash men are something that can be found lying around the house." So who is the future Wabash Man in your house? Let the Admission's Office know at: <https://www.wabash.edu/alumni/student/refer>

7. Have a great summer!
