Class of 2005

June 2011

Gentlemen:

We hope this letter finds you well. As we all continue to progress in our busy lives—whether it be work, school, family, or other obligations—sometimes it can be difficult to keep in touch with old friends. Accordingly, this Class Agent letter provides you with updates on the lives of several of your '05 classmates. As you can see from the snippets below, each of these men continues to exhibit the qualities and strengths instilled in us all during our time on campus. We hope the same can be said for you and look forward to hearing from you for future letters.

In Wabash,

Sam, Beau, Jason, Mark, Nathan, Brock, Matt, AJ, Drew, Tom, Michael, Zach, and Hector

Class Updates

- AJ Lyman: AJ is currently living in the Pilsen neighborhood of Chicago where he works for FEMA Region V as an Emergency Management Program Specialist in the Response Division. He was married last May to Rebekkah Sappington in Weston, Missouri.
- Drew McCoy: Drew moved to San Diego for a brief stint after Wabash, but then returned to Indianapolis to finish law school at Indiana University – Indianapolis. He is currently practicing intellectual property law with Baker & Daniels LLP in their downtown Indianapolis office. He married his wife, Shelley McCoy, in November 2009, and they recently purchased a house on the north side of Indianapolis.
- Michael Ruffing: Mike remains in the Roscoe Village neighborhood of Chicago with his wife Leslie. After spending his first 5 years out of Wabash at the same job ($25M company with 110 employees), he joined the Response Marketing sales team within RR Donnelley ($10B company with 60,000 employees) in February of 2010. The adjustment has gone very well. In other news, he has already initiated tailgating plans for Monon Bell 2012.

- Jacob Rump: Jacob is currently living in Germany, working as a guest researcher at the Edmund Husserl Archives at the University of Cologne for the 2010-2011 academic year and, as ever, advancing his knowledge of fine beer on the side. He advanced to doctoral candidacy and received his masters "in-passing" in philosophy from Emory University last spring. He is doing research here toward his PhD dissertation (also in philosophy), and will return to Emory for 2011- 2012 to teach undergraduate courses and (hopefully) finish writing his dissertation and defend it.
- Michael Einterz: Mike '05 started a dual JD/MBA program at Indiana University in Indianapolis shortly after graduating Wabash. During his postgraduate studies he married Jennifer Colton Einterz. After graduating law school he joined his father, Michael Einterz '83 at Einterz & Einterz Attorneys in Zionsville. Two years ago Michael and Jen welcomed their son Alexander Quinn into their family. They currently reside in Westfield, Indiana.
- Jon Gard: Since graduating from Wabash, Jon worked in investment banking at Lehman Brothers (NYC) and in private equity at Madison Dearborn Partners (Chicago). He married his wife Natalie in 2006 and they have two sons, Wyatt (2 years old) and Crosby (4 months). Jon returned to school to get his MBA, and he will finish at the Kellogg School of Management in Evanston, IL this spring. Jon reports that he will likely return to private equity, focusing on smaller niche-based opportunities, and that he and Natalie will continue to build their "little army" – he wants three, she wants four (we can all guess who will win that one).
- Kyle West: Kyle moved to Chicago shortly after graduation and has been there ever since. He is an Assistant Vice President for Duff & Phelps and lives with his dog Bosco in Roscoe Village.
- Corey Asay: Corey graduated from Ohio Northern University Law School in 2009 near the top of his class. After graduation, he accepted a job working for Judge Jack Zouhary in Toledo, Ohio. In his free time, he enjoys yachting on the mighty Maumee River.
- Colin Smith: Colin graduated from IU Medical School in 2009, and had a great time living with fellow Wally Tony GiaQuinta for four years. Tony is now in residency for Pediatrics at Vanderbilt. Colin then married his wife, Stefanie on August 21, 2010 in Ft. Wayne, IN. They are both busy in residencies in Pediatrics and Anesthesia at the University of Michigan and enjoy living in Ann Arbor, MI.
- Josh Baker: Josh is living in Brownsburg, Indiana, and working for Bosch Medical. He spends nearly all of his free time with his children, Reagan and Noah, or watching the Cubs or Colts.
- Aaron Stump: Aaron currently lives in Milwaukee, WI (Algonquin for "the promised land"). He recently graduated dental school, and is currently specializing in pediatric dentistry at the Children's Hospital of WI, which is a two year program.

- Danny Creasap: Danny is living in Chicago, Illinois, with Chris Healy. Danny is currently working for the National Association of Realtors in the Global Business and Alliances department as a Global Education Specialist. He does his best to keep Chris in line, but the task continues to prove difficult.
- Bill Goff: In 2009, Bill married Ashley Goff of Greenwood in Brownsburg, IN and they purchased their first home in Avon, IN. Just 18 months later, they relocated to Bloomington, IN for his new position as a Marketing Representative with Federated Mutual Insurance Company. They now happily reside near the IU campus and are looking forward to experiencing the energy that the city offers, especially in the fall.
- Jon Hensley: Jon reports that he recently moved to Indianapolis after finishing graduate school at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis. He is currently working for the Indianapolis Museum of Art.
- Ben Hewitt: Ben now lives in Fort Lauderdale, Florida where he coaches swimming at Nova Southeastern University. He had previously worked for the San Francisco Giants (who were unable to win it all the year he was there so he did not get a ring). Ben also had brief stints at Wabash, Kenyon, and a small non-profit in San Francisco, but is enjoying the nice weather in Fort Lauderdale.
- Kris Yoder: Kris is currently living in Brownsburg, Indiana with his son, Konnor. He currently works for Sigma Tau Pharmasource in Indianapolis as a microbiology analyst.
