

'07 Update

Dear Classmates,

This is normally the time of year when we ask for updates. But these are far from normal times. We hope everyone is holding up OK in the quarantine. Instead of attempting to put a newsletter together right now, we thought of trying out some social-distancing-approved technology. Announcing the first ever:

'07 Zoom Happy Hour

Watch your e-mail for the invite links to two happy hours starting at 7 p.m. and 8 p.m. EST on Tuesday, May 12. Stop by and say hello to whoever shows up as we mark 13 years since graduation from Old Wabash. You can reach out directly for a link or send a note with an update if you can't make it to wabash07@gmail.com.

Campus Update

So much has changed on campus lately that it actually requires a bulleted list:

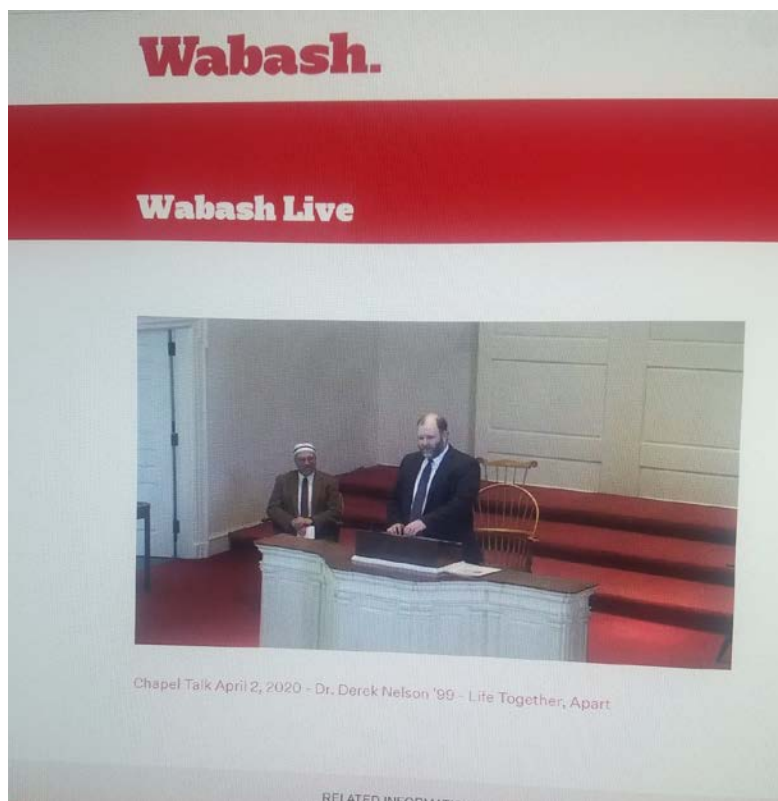

- Professor Blix is now lecturing into a computer at his podium (photo below)
- “Go to Chapel” means tuning into Wabash Live (photo below)
- The old football stadium has been torn down – the new stadium is still scheduled to be finished in time for the upcoming hypothetical fall season
- Greg Hess is stepping down as President on June 30
- Dean of the College and chemistry professor Scott Feller will become Acting President on July 1
- The above two bullet points actually happened before the pandemic
- Also before the pandemic, Wabash regained its #1 spot for “Best Alumni Network” in the Princeton Review

Thanks for reading and remember to join the '07 virtual happy hour on May 12!

Ross and John

Dr. Blix's New Virtual Classroom

Thursday Chapel in its New Home, The Matrix