A MESSAGE FROM THE OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF STUDENTS' – WABASH CULTURE

According to our students, two characteristics, among many, make Wabash a truly distinctive college: the level of confidence we place in our students and the responsibility we give to them. The College's only rule, the Gentleman's Rule, symbolizes this distinction:

"The student is expected to conduct himself at all times, both on and off campus, as a Gentleman and a Responsible Citizen."

We expect our students to act as gentlemen and responsible citizens and to participate daily in defining what our community means by these terms. We expect them to make many important decisions about their academic, residential, personal, and social lives at Wabash. Most students make good decisions most of the time. Occasionally a few students make poor ones. Our students learn from both kinds of decisions, and we hope to guide them to increase the good ones and limit the poor ones.

We believe that students learn best when given responsibility and freedom for making those decisions. Therefore, Wabash will work directly with your son regarding the decisions he makes. The small size of the Student Life staff requires that students assume responsibility for managing much of their daily lives. In fact, Federal privacy laws restrict our ability to communicate most matters directly with you.

All of us at Wabash look forward to working with your son in the coming year. Thank you in advance for the opportunity we have to support your son in his collegiate pursuits.

NOTICE OF NONDISCRIMINATORY POLICY AS TO STUDENTS

Wabash College admits students without regard to race, color, national or ethnic origin or handicaps, as defined in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, to all the rights, privileges, programs, facilities and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the College. Wabash does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin or handicaps, as defined in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other school-administered programs.

HEALTH, SAFETY & SECURITY HANDBOOK

The College distributes to each student a pamphlet, Health, Safety, and Security Issues: A Guide for the Wabash Community, to educate students about this subject. Any questions regarding the pamphlet may be addressed to the Dean of Students' or the Associate Dean of Students'.

The mission of Wabash College is to educate men to think critically, act responsibly, lead effectively, and live humanely.

THE CORE VALUES OF WABASH COLLEGE

A rigorous liberal arts education that fosters

- An appreciation for the intellectual and physical aspects of a good life
- An understanding of and appreciation for other cultures

A personal context to teaching and learning that encourages

- Candid, respectful, face-to-face conversations
- Freedom of thought
- A local scholarly community that creates lifelong relationships

Individual responsibility and trust that are

- Based on moral and ethical awareness
- Expressed in the Gentleman's Rule
- Required for leadership and teamwork

A socially, economically, and ethnically diverse student body characterized by

- A dedication to the serious pursuit of learning
- A culture of competition without malice
- A few years of residence, a lifetime of loyalty

A tradition and philosophy of independence that

- Keeps the College from external control
- Allows the Wabash community to shape significantly its own destiny
- Promotes independence and self-reliance in its students and graduates

RULE OF CONDUCT AND ACADEMIC HONESTY

Perhaps the most striking aspect of student life at Wabash is personal freedom. Believing that students ought to develop self-reliance and personal responsibility, the College has long prescribed only one rule of conduct:

The student is expected to conduct himself, at all times, both on and off the campus, as a gentleman and a responsible citizen.

Adherence to this code of conduct is primarily a student's responsibility. Enforcement of the rule lies with the Dean of Students' Office.

As an intellectual community, Wabash requires the highest standards of academic honesty. Cases of academic dishonesty are managed by the Dean of the College's Office. The Associate Dean of the College receives faculty reports of cases of academic dishonesty, and meets with all students accused. The Dean of the College adjudicates cases of academic dishonesty requiring an administrative response, and makes decisions about continuation at the College.

In addition, ALL STUDENTS are required to provide the Student Health Center with current address, emergency contact, insurance information, medical alerts, and health history information. HOUSING

Wabash students choose from a wide range of housing options — eight independent residence halls or ten national fraternities. Students are required to live in campus housing all four years.

All the College-owned chapter houses were built new or renovated in the last 20 years and all are located on campus. All the fraternities are focused on the ideals of scholarship, brotherhood, and service. Students who choose to remain independent live in one of eight residence halls. Living accommodations in these buildings vary from single-man rooms to doubles, triples, and quads. All of them have common social areas and laundry facilities.

Wabash Fraternities — Beta Theta Pi (ΒΘΠ), Delta Tau Delta (ΔΤΔ), Kappa Sigma (ΚΣ), Lambda Chi Alpha (ΛΧΑ), Phi Delta Theta (ΦΔΘ), Phi Gamma Delta (ΦΓΔ), Phi Kappa Psi (ΦΚΨ), Sigma Chi (ΣΧ), Theta Delta Chi (ΘΔΧ), and Tau Kappa Epsilon (ΤΚΕ).

Residence Halls and Townhomes — College Hall, Martindale Hall, Morris Hall, Rogge Hall, Williams Hall, Wolcott Hall, Butler Townhome, and Seymour Townhome.

DINING

Each fraternity has its own meal plan, dining room, and cook.

Men who live in residence halls eat in the Sparks Center and have a choice of two meal plans (19 or 15 meals per week). Wabash contracts with Café Bon Appetit to provide high quality meals to the campus community.

Scarlet Inn located in the lower level of Sparks Center, offers a specialty grilled sandwich menu.
